SAYING GOODBYE TO THE HOMELAND.

TWO NAUGHTY PLAYS AS A FINAL TREAT.

COMPENSATIONS OF LIFE IN HONG KONG.

THE LAST LETTER TO HELENA OF HONG KONG FROM JOCASTA.

My dear Helena,—There is a new epidemic in London and it seems to be very infectious, although it attacks women only! It was first noticed more than a month ago when a few women here and there broke into spots. The disease spread like wildfire and now almost every woman is covered with them (their clothes I mean,—not their faces.) red spots, black spots, green spots, and yellow spots,—spotted dresses spotted hats and spotted hags; while the few females who still adhere to plain colours merely gain added effect by the contrast of a spotted scarf or tie. In fact it seems the ambition of every Englishwoman to look as much like a Dalmatian dog as possible. Hong Kong being usually well ahead as regards fashion, I have no doubt that Lane Crawford's window is already full of these freakish garments and that you, my dear, have been wearing them for ages.

TENNIS TROUSERS.

Tennis players are getting quite worried about this craze which would be fearfully distracting on the courts, so I am glad to hear that it is "tabu" for tournament wear. The tennis season is upon us: tickets bought for Wimbledon are being resold at enormous profit as of yore; the usual controversy about stockings is in the air, and I can tell you of at least one entrancing fashion, tho' I fear only a few will follow it (not because they don't like it, but because they don't quite dare.) Tennis trousers for ladies are the natural outcome of the beach trousers of last year and I assure you that they can look perfectly charming. Delightful ones may be seen in the Gaiety show "HOLD MY HAND" and when you are brave enough to adopt them I feel sure that lots of people will be wanting to hold YOUR hand too. These garments should be shaped on the hips, wide and flowing below, perfectly tailored in firm heavy silk and worn with shoulder straps over a plain shirt of brilliant hue. They look so neat and workmanlike, and are so much trimmer than the indefinite semi-short skirts in vogue at Wimbledon last summer. There will be no more disillusioning photos of favourite Tennis Stars when this pretty and sensible fashion catches on.

LAST LETTER.

It is most kind of you, my dear Helena, to say that you have enjoyed my letters and that they have helped to beguile and amuse, while you are waiting for your turn to "go on leave." I feel glad to think that you will miss them when they cease, for I have loved writing to you and I am sorry to tell you that this is my last letter. Yes,—Even the longest leave has an ending and mine has drawn to its close. I have said good-bye to London: I have paid a final flying visit to my favourite shops and spent one last night in Theatreland. My trunks are packed and have been spirited away by the ubiquitous Mr. Carter Patterson, and I, accompanied by my trusty suitcase have motored down to the sea through the chaotic traffic of Vauxhall into the Kentish lanes, where most alluring little white woolly lambs frisk among the buttercups in the meadows, where the orchards are white with blossoms, and where anxious-looking hops are pushing up tentative shoots, (with one eye on the brewer's and other on the tax-collector's) and finally I have settled into a snug little cabin and am well on my way out East again.

DOUBLE-ACTION OF ROYAL

Two natural fruit acids are used in ROYAL BAKING POWDER, viz: tartaric fruit acid which may be called "quick acting" due to the reaction with the base being started by the addition of liquid to the batter; and cream of tartar which may be called "slow acting," its reaction to the base being delayed until the heat from the oven is felt.

The "double-acting" qualities of ROYAL BAKING POWDER as well as its many other outstanding qualities are the result of fifty years experience by the ROYAL BAKING POWDER COMPANY in the manufacture of the highest quality food products.

SAYING GOODBYE TO THE HOMELAND.

ENGLAND—AND EAST OF SUEZ.

Am I sorry?—Well, not altogether. Life East of Suez has its compensations and England is rapidly becoming a country where only the rich can have a good time. Houses, land, servants, hotels, heating, education, sport, games, theatres,—everything in fact, which makes life pleasant costs far, far too much, and my Bank Balance warns me that it is time for me to go! Anyway my constitution would never stand the rigours of another English summer! I have watched the golden palor of many a sunset over Hyde Park Corner and shall get quite a thrill out of the blazing panorama of crimson and orange behind the purple peaks of Nan Tau. It will be soothing to hear the tuncful clippings of wooden sandals and see the swinging signs in Queen's Road again. To see rikshas spinning along behind blue-hatted coolies, and dainty Chinese girls in their gay brocades. I shall feast on mangoes and persimmons; order a beautifully drawn and hemstitched dress to be copied from a machine made French model, and only stifle a sigh when I go down in the Peak Tram to the "Bickers" instead of hailing a taxi and going off to a West End theatre.

GLADY'S COOPER.

I went to just a few more plays before I sailed, of which "Dr. PYGMALION" was easily the best. As you doubtless know it shows Gladys Cooper as a woman of forty who is just beginning to lose her grip on life and her hold on her husband and daughter, and is in danger of becoming a "maude imaginaire." How she is tackled by the latest thing in Society Doctors (Ronald Squire) How she reacts to his methods and re-appears revived and rejuvenated to astound her daughter and rout her husband's newly acquired mistress, makes the most intriguing evenings entertainment I have had for ages.

TWO NAUGHTY PLAYS.

Another theatrical attraction is the return of London's handsomest young man in a play written by himself and called by the curious title "I LIVED WITH YOU" When I say the handsomest, I am not sure that Iver Novello is really my ideal of manly beauty, but he certainly is easy to look at. His play tells of a middle-class family who befriend a destitute Russian Prince. He loves them and lives with them and completely corrupts and demoralizes them, and finally departs after having spoilt their lives and wrecked their home. It is very clever and very cynical and gives Iver a chance to come out with remarks calculated to bring a blush to the most hardened cheek, but it leaves a bitter taste in one's mouth and I should not care to see it again. Yet it is not really half so daring as Owen Nares' new comedy "PLEASURE CRUISE" I simply must not attempt to tell you the plot of that frivolous but delightful play (For I know the Editor would drive his pencil through it at once) but I may tell you that it is acted with the greatest discretion (even when the three protagonists go right up to the verge and over with a terrible crash) Oh what fun it would be if the A.D.C. were to give it. But I fear that Hong Kong would never survive that third act. Mrs. Grundy is too firmly established in our midst and if you want to see PLEASURE CRUISE I expect you will have to wait till you go Home. And now I must stop. Marseilles to-morrow and this letter must be posted, so "au revoir," till we meet over the tea-cups in Hong Kong—Yours for the last time.

LESSON SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG.

"God the preserver of man" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 12. The Golden Text was:—"Thy righteousness is like the great mountain; thy judgments are a great deep. O Lord, thou preservest man and beast." (Psalms 36: 6). Among the citations which comprised the Lesson Sermon was the following from the Bible:—"And the prayer of faith shall save the sick; and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him. Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." (James 5, 15, 16). The Lesson Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy:—"The Apostle James said, 'Show me thy faith without thy works, and I will show thee my faith by my works.' The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality. This faith relies upon an understood Principle. This Principle makes whole the diseased, and brings out the enduring and harmonious phases of things." (p. 487.)

MOVIE NEWS

On the Screen in Hong Kong.

Acting gentle in the game of love is the role portrayed by blonde Linda Watkins in the Fox production, "Good Sport."

"GOOD SPORT" AT THE KING'S.

WIFE AND HER SUCCESSFUL RIVAL.

A trade notice states:—
As a forerunner of the style trend of milady's coiffure, the fact that six blondes are to be found among the leading feminine players in the Fox production, "Good Sport," which opens its local engagement at the King's Theatre next Thursday may be of decided interest to women. And especially so when one considers that the picture is one of modern matrimony, laid in the fashionable sections of New York and that each of these fair haired enacts the rôle of a member of the smart set.

These golden-tressed actresses are Linda Watkins who made her screen debut recently in "Sib Sister" and who is cast in the title rôle, Greta Nissen, noted for her siren portrayals, Minna Gombell, known to you perhaps as Edna, the girl friend, in "Bad Girl," Claire Maynard, Betty Francisco and Eleanor Hunt.

For years it has been the dark-haired maiden who has held sway as well as the masculine eye; but since the publication of a certain popular novel, hair-dressers have noted a great increase in the sales of those preparations guaranteed to give the hair the colour that gentlemen now prefer.

"Good Sport" deals with the story of a young and trusting wife, who suddenly discovers that her husband has transferred his affections to another woman. Rather than turn to the divorce courts for help she decides to find out just why this other woman was able to lure him away from her and in doing so she meets up with some rather startling revelations.

In the male lead opposite Miss Watkins is to be seen John Boles, star of "Rio Rita" and "Seed." The other featured players include Allan Dinehart and Hedda Hopper. Kenneth MacKenzie directed the film.

AT THE KING'S.

"MIRACLE MAN" AS A TALKIE.

Boasting one of the most distinguished all-star casts of the current season of cinemamaking, "The Miracle Man," classic American play, showing at the King's Theatre to-day.

"The Miracle Man," which opened yesterday at the King's Theatre, appears in the fourth phase of a metamorphosis, which is more the rule than the exception in these days of barking back to the old stand-bys for new thrills in the amusement world. It first saw the light when it was published in novel form; next it became a successful play; thereafter a silent movie (in 1919) and now a talkie.

The cast of "The Miracle Man" is an imposing one. Sylvia Sydney and Chester Morris play the leading romantic rôles, as the girl and the dapper young confidence crook.

These were the rôles played by Betty Compson and Thomas Meighan in "19. Hobart." Bosworth plays the central rôle the faith-healer patriarch. John Wray plays the part of the fake paralytic, "The Frog"—the part which made Lon Chaney famous on the screen 13 years ago.

The story deals with the reformation of a gang of crooks by a faith-healer, known as "The Patriarch" in the vicinity where he lives. Chester Morris plans to exploit the Patriarch for the benefit of the gang.

Sylvia Sydney, Morris' girl, is to impose herself upon the Patriarch, as his grand daughter, while John Wray, known as "The Frog," a supple-jointed faker, is to pretend a marvellous cure by the faith-healer and rise from the ground before the astonished crowd. Sylvia is then to collect the shower of money which is always abundant after a spectacular healing.

Ronald Colman, who was slated to be making as his next film "The Murder of Karamazov" with the new Russian star, Anna Sten, has changed his plans, says a London Critic.

He is making "The Way of a Lancer" instead.

No reason is given for the change, but the cause is not beyond conjecture.

It happens that I was the first to draw attention over here to Anna Sten as a new star rising over Europe. That was when she had just completed a gangster film, "Tempest," with Emil Jannings.

Those who had seen her in Berlin declared that she was a Russian, rival to Marlene Dietrich, and since seeing her myself I agree with them.

I learned, however, that she could not speak a word of English, and now the news comes that she has just arrived in Hollywood with only five words in which to make herself understood.

She can say "I love you," so I see no reason why she should not start making pictures at once.

However, the suggestion made by after a spectacular healing. The plan works admirably, but to the astonishment of the gang, Robert Coogan, a truly crippled boy, is cured at the same gathering. The gang is so impressed by the miracle and by the simple goodness of the Patriarch, that they refuse to continue their deception—all except Morris, who, still in love with Sylvia, determines to kill Lloyd Hughes, who, he thinks, has stolen Sylvia's love. When he finds Hughes, the latter tells Morris that Sylvia has refused to marry him because she still loves Morris.

Delighted and softened, Morris hastens to the home of the Patriarch, who is evidently approaching death. All the gang are much affected, and Sylvia starts to confess their deception, but the Patriarch interrupts, and tells them he had known it from the start.

RONALD COLMAN AND ANNA STEN

RUSSIAN RIVAL TO MARLENE DIETRICH.

An official of United Artists, the firm controlling Mr. Colman's films in this country, is that Miss Sten is battling with our irregular verbs.

Everything is being got in readiness for the day when Miss Sten can say, "I love you." Then she will have the whole vocabulary of talkies at her finger tips.

Without a Star.

In the meantime Ronald Colman has started work on "Way of a Lancer," with no star named as his leading lady.

This is the story of a Polish cavalry regiment in conflict with Russian troops during the Great War, and is to be directed by King Vidor. It sounds Colmanesque.

An interesting item from the Hollywood Star Exchange is that Joan Crawford has been lent to another company for the talkies production of "Rain," the film in which Gloria Swanson appeared under the title of "Sadie Thompson."

The star brokers frequently do this kind of thing, but this particular case has a piquant touch.

"SHE'S MY WEAKNESS."

BRILLIANT COMEDY DRAMA.

A trade notice states:—
Refreshing, diverting and entertaining does not begin to tell the story about the coming attraction at the Queen's Theatre.

"She's My Weakness," Radio Pictures' is an all-talking romantic comedy drama, co-starring Arthur Lake and Sue Carol.

Adapted from the stage play "Tommy," which had a run of almost two years on Broadway, the story is filled with romance and comedy. The plot deals with the struggles of a young man in love with a girl who professes love for him. Their happiness is threatened by energetic approval given by the girl's parents.

Arthur Lake and Sue Carol play the rôles of the young lovers. Their characterizations shown them at their best. Lucien Littlefield, inimitable character comedian, lives up to his usual standard of comedy and adds many subtle touches. William Collier, sr., is an important member of the cast.

JOAN CRAWFORD AS A "KEPT" WOMAN.

EVE AND HER SORRY ADAMS.

"Possessed," showing at the Queen's Theatre, is the best performance yet given by Joan Crawford. She has a fine rôle, and moves, a fiery and queenlike Eve, among a group of sorry Adams. The story tells how the beautiful factory girl gets the wealth, and all that wealth means, as the mistress of a fashionable young lawyer. But though he is truly in love with her, and has her transformed into an accomplished woman, he is mean enough to refuse to marry her. He is adamant on that point, despite the humiliations that the girl suffers on his behalf. Her old-time sweetheart turns up, but turns on her when he learns the truth, though he still wants to keep in with her lover, who has promised to help him get a big contract.

Poor Adam No. 2, is worse than Adam No. 1, and Eve loves the latter. One final, and rather heartrending effort, and all is well!

"Possessed" is the summit of good entertainment. Joan Crawford acts really well, while Clark Gable carries through his difficult part better than anyone else would have done. In fact he looks far too pleasant to have behaved so badly. The opening of the film and a little scene between Joan and Skeets Gallagher, as a silly old roué, the latter in a Pullman car, the former on the railway siding, is beautifully done. From start to finish the story grips, and if the morals and sentiments are queer—well, Hollywood, like the Restoration drama, has no morals, and is tedious when, from a mistaken sense of duty it gets on that tack. Unless you are straitlaced or inordinately high-brow, "Possessed" is a film to see.

papers which were found to be unsatisfactory, whereupon the search party started to board the junk.
Immediately, the junk crew opened fire with a machine gun and Kon-drup fell, shot through the stomach.
A Chinese sidewater was shot through the head and died almost immediately while a Chinese sailor was also killed. The Chinese junk man who had brought the papers was shot dead by his own friends.
Three more Chinese members of the search party and boat crew were wounded, two being shot in the leg and the other in the stomach. The latter sailor's condition is reported to be serious.

Junk Escapes in Fog.

Under this heavy fog the picket boat was forced to retreat in order to get into a better position. Members of the picket crew returned fire on the junk but before the cruiser Chuentiao could come up the junk disappeared in the heavy fog enveloping the river.

The river steamer Haisheng passed the scene of the shooting shortly afterwards and the killed and the wounded were placed on board and brought up to Shanghai last night.
The three wounded men are at the Lester Chinese hospital. The body of the slain pirate is in the city mortuary. The bodies of the Customs officer and his two assistants were removed to the premises of the International Funeral Directors, where they will remain pending arrangements for an funeral.

PIRATE ATTACK
AT WOOSUNG.

FOREIGN OFFICER AND 3

MACHINE GUN TURNED ON CUSTOMS PARTY.

Shanghai, June 3.--Mr. J. Kon-drup, third officer of the Chinese Customs cruiser Chuentiao, and three Chinese were shot dead and three other Chinese were wounded in a piratical outrage off Woosung yesterday when the crew of a suspicious-looking junk opened fire with a machine gun on the boarding party who were engaged in examining the junk's papers.

One of the Chinese who was killed was a member of the crew of the pirate junk who had gone on board the picket boat to hand over the papers.

The Chuentiao, in command of Captain A. E. Borden, was despatched down river yesterday morning with instructions to examine unlicensed junks in the vicinity of Woosung, where a number of piracy cases of small boats have been reported in recent months. About 5.30 a.m. a party in charge of Mr.
Kondrup, third officer of the Chuentiao, who is a Dane, was sent off in a picket boat accompanied by Chinese search parties. While patrolling the river about a mile and a half or two miles from the cruiser, a suspicious-looking junk hove into sight and the picket boat drew alongside and called for the customs papers to be brought on board.

SOYA BEAN IN U.S.A.

POPULAR FORMS OF IMITATION.

Los Angeles, U.S.A., May 23.—Southern California is becoming "soya-bean conscious." Dietary staple for thousands of years throughout the Orient, and favourably known in the United States as a valuable food, the humble soy is now appearing on the local market in new and strange guises.

Soya soup, soy flour, cheese, butter, coffee and milk substitutes and other products are being manufactured here in commercial quantities by T. A. Van Gundy, food machine specialist, and D. J. Archer, former chef, following two years of intensive research and experiment. The latest development of this new industry is a creditable imitation of certain popular types of sausage with cellophane as the casing. All of the products are said to be exceedingly palatable and very satisfactory substitutes for the commodities which they represent. The soy flour is particularly suitable for puddings, it is said.

It has long been recognized in Oriental countries that the chief protein of the soy bean is similar to that of beef, certain other properties also helping to make the bean exceptionally valuable for building up the cells of the human body. Of late years, interest in soy products has been spreading throughout Europe and America, especially the United States. Cultivation of the soy bean plant has been carried on in this country to a limited extent for one hundred years. Now, with the available supplies of imported beans curtailed because of political unrest in the Far East, it is predicted that plantings will be on a greatly expanded scale.

GLAMORGAN XI. OF YOUTH.

LEICESTER'S NEW TALENT.

Glamorgan, the youngest of the first-class counties, reduced to desperate economy, have gone so far as to get rid of their older professionals, even some who had good records last year. Indeed, they are gambling on youth to such an extent that the average age of this year's team will be something under 25. This is an excellent policy—if it comes off.

M. J. Turnbull has consented to captain the side for one more season, and it is hoped that J. C. Clay will be able to play more often. When in form Clay stands among the best of amateur bowlers.

After the middle of June, R. W. Boon and V. G. Jenkins will be available. Each is a batsman of possibilities.

Like some other counties, Leicestershire have difficulty in finding a captain, for E. W. Dawson has resigned from that position, although he will play occasionally. Sidwell and Riley have not been re-engaged, but a club strong enough in reserve players to win the Minor Counties Championship as Leicestershire did last year, should not have difficulty in filling gaps.

W. C. Brown in Command.

A few months ago there was a danger that Northamptonshire would drop out of the first-class championship, but friends of cricket have been liberal with their donations, and the usual fixtures have been arranged.

Last year, the team finished at the bottom of the counties, and new players of ability remain difficult to find. V. W. C. Jupp will again play regularly although he has resigned the captaincy. The leadership has passed to W. C. Brown, an old Carthusian whose career as a county player was interrupted for two years by ill-health. He has many possibilities.

CIVILIAN WATCH FOR BURGLARS.

POLICE COMMISSIONER SAYS
PLAN IS NOT PRACTICAL.

Action by suburban vigilance committees is not practical as a means of keeping down the number of burglaries, according to the Commissioner of Metropolitan Police, Lord Trevelyan.

Residents of North Harrow and Pinner (Middlesex) proposed to form a Vigilance Committee, following many burglaries in the district. They approached the Commissioner of Police on the matter.

The Commissioner has replied that the idea is not practical, and suggests that householders can assist in preventing burglaries by taking care that their houses are not left unprotected in their absence.

ARMS AND THE SHOPKEEPER.

WOMAN INTRUDER SURPRISED.

A Walton shopkeeper who was aroused in the early hours went downstairs with an automatic pistol in his hand and found a woman on the premises.

The woman, Angela Delaney, 23, of Thames Bank, Walton-on-Thames, was charged at Kingston with having been found on enclosed premises for a supposed unlawful purpose and further with house-breaking. She pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Albert Price, of the Manor Stores, Walton, said that he was awakened about 4.30 a.m. by his wife, who had heard a noise. He went downstairs and found Mrs. Delaney in a shed.

Mr. G. E. Baker, defending, asked if he pointed a revolver at Delaney, and Mr. Price replied that the weapon was in his hand. He denied that he said, "Put up your hands or I shall shoot." He knew Mrs. Delaney as a regular customer.

Witness denied that after he had detained Mrs. Delaney he told his wife to shoot her if she moved, nor did his wife in his presence say she would shoot if the girl moved. On his premises was a gate 7 ft. 6 in. high. He suggested that Mrs. Delaney climbed over it.

Hammer In Pocket.

Police-sergeant Selfe said that he arrived at the shop at a.m. Mrs. Delaney said, "I was in arrears with my rent, and this is the second time I have been in this house." At the police-station she was searched and a hammer was found in her pocket. She said that her little boy had placed it there.

Mr. Baker: When you arrived did you find her covered with a revolver?—No. She was sitting in a chair with a cup of tea in front of her. Mr. Price unloaded an automatic pistol in my presence.

Did she say she did not think it was five o'clock in the morning?—She was greatly distressed.

Mrs. Delaney, giving evidence on the first charge, said that she was of Irish parentage and was married five years ago. She had three children, and went to Walton six months after her marriage. Mr. Price knew her and had given her credit from time to time. Sometimes she went to the shop for goods before it was opened.

A week ago, she was awakened by her baby crying. Finding that she had no bread in the house she went to the Manor Stores and knocked at the door.

She received no answer and heard a noise in the shed. She thought there was somebody there who could serve her, and was dumb-founded when she saw Mr. Price come out with a "gun" in his hand.

"Like a Madman."

"He was like a madman," accused added. "He pushed me into the kitchen with the gun and did not give me time to explain. I was hysterical and frightened. I thought he was going to shoot me. He gave the gun to his wife and told her that if I moved she was to shoot me. Mr. Price said she was a good shot and had had good practice."

In reply to Inspector Dibley, Delaney said that the clocks in her house were wrong, and she thought it was seven o'clock.

The magistrate having decided to convict on this charge, Mr. Baker said that Mrs. Delaney's brother was a police commissioner in Ireland. Her husband had been out of work for some time.

Dealing with the second charge, Mr. Price said that he missed several pounds from a drawer in his kitchen on Feb. 17.

Police-sergeant Selfe said that Mrs. Delaney told him that she had been to the house on two occasions, and each time took £5 to pay a debt.

In evidence Delaney said that she did not remember making that statement.

This charge was reduced to one of larceny and accused was bound over for two years.

SOLDIER-BANDITS ATTACK CITY.

DEMAND TO GOVERNOR TO SURRENDER ARMS.

Tahushan (Fengtien), May 30.—Eight thousand Chinese soldier-bandits under command of Lao Pei Fung suddenly surrounded the walled city of Taiian, south-east of Tahushan, yesterday morning and started an attack on the city according to word here to-day.

Meanwhile the irregulars demanded that the governor surrender all arms and ammunition.

The Chinese police force of the Bureau of Public Safety is strongly resisting. Owing to the great number of the bandits, however, the city is considered in much danger.

COLONY'S FINANCES.

CREDIT BALANCE
INCREASE.

The Colony's credit balance at the end of February was $12,522,713, which is a slight advance on the figure for the end of January, when the balance was $12,318,086. Revenue for February totalled $2,427,084, as compared with $2,436,435 for the same month last year. For the first two months of the year, the total revenue was $6,720,108, as against $6,133,300 in 1931.

Expenditure during February was $2,173,387, against $2,028,304 last year, the respective figures for the two months being $4,405,024 and $4,039,027.

SMALL BUSINESS IN

The following reports are published in the fortnightly bulletin issued by the Hong Kong General Chamber of Commerce:—

Cotton Piece Goods.

Clearances of staples have been satisfactory but spring fancies still hang fire and unless there is some appreciation in local prices the off-take is not likely to improve.

Some enquiries are reported on poplins for Dec./January shipment but no new business appears to have been booked.

The latest cotton prices to hand are those of the 10th inst:—

The buying of woolens for this season appears to have terminated and the market is now very quiet. Clearances of wool yarns are expected to commence this month and prospects for the knitting industry appear favourable.

DRAINING OF THE ZUIDER ZEE.

FINISH OF DYKES ENDS
FIRST STAGE.

Amsterdam, May 28.—A gigantic dyke separating the Zuider Zee from the North Sea and converting the old Zuider Zee into IJssel Lake, was completed this afternoon with a simple ceremony in the presence of various Dutch dignitaries.

The construction of the dyke was started in 1927, and its completion marks the most important stage of the huge work of draining the Zuider Zee. The dyke is 13 miles long, 120 feet wide at the top and 400 feet wide at the bottom.

A 100 foot-wide road railway line will run along the top of the dyke maintaining communication between Noord Holland and the Frisian Coast.

So far only a small part of the Zuider Zee has been drained, namely 60,000 acres south of the former island of Wieringen. Here villages are being constructed, crops grown and cattle and sheep grazing instituted. The draining of the other parts of the Zuider Zee will be provisionally delayed in view of the present financial situation and pending a discussion in Parliament.

IN NO SPIRIT OF HAGGLING.

AUSTRALIAN ATTITUDE TO OTTAWA CONFERENCE.

TRADE MINISTER'S SPEECH.

Melbourne, May 30.—"It is with the British Government that big arrangements will be made if we agree on big arrangements," said Mr. Gullett, the Australian Minister of Trade and Customs, in discussing the forthcoming Imperial Conference at Ottawa in a speech here to-day.

"I am speaking for the leader of the Australian delegation," he continued, "when I say that we have no intent to haggle in the interests of trade in any spirit of animosity. We certainly shall not attempt a motu, niggardly weighing of our respective concessions."

"If we are so foolish as to descend to mere bargaining, more harm than good will come from Ottawa."

DAY OF BIG DIVIDENDS AT HAPPY VALLEY.

MR. BOTELHO PASSES OUT OF NOVICES CLASS:
PAYS DIVIDEND OF $224 IN LAST RACE.

MERMAID WINS THE RACE FOR AUSTRALIANS.

[By "MORNING DEW."]

The weather, although not very promising in the morning, held off sufficiently long on Saturday afternoon to enable the Hong Kong Jockey Club's eighth Extra Race Meeting to be held and those who went to Happy Valley were treated to some good sport.

Saturday's meeting brings the first half year's racing to a close and it was appropriate that some very big dividend should have been handed out to successful punters.

From more than one point of view the meeting was a memorable one. Honours were very evenly divided and there was more than the usual number of close finishes.

The course was heavy and in places there were patches of water and fast times were out of the question, but the surprise of the meeting was that some reputed mudlarks failed to come off at all.

WORKABLE STAG PAYS $91.90.

Another novice, Mr. A. A. R. Botelho, passed out of the novices' standard on Saturday by winning his tenth race during the afternoon.

Mr. Botelho won on Army Hall and in the last race of the meeting brought home City of Shanghai to pay the biggest dividend of the meeting. City of Shanghai was not fancied at all and those who have followed form closely absolutely left him out of calculations in the pari with the result that when he finished half a length in front of The Crook, his supporters received the handsome sum of $224.00 each.

Mr. Botelho's win on Army Hall by half a length was a very close affair, as the pony was joined by Kate at the distance post and the two fought the race out neck and neck. Mr. Fung, on Kate, drew in front when still a hundred yards from home and was about a head and neck in the van, when both Army Hall and Kate were seen to swerve away from the rails. Kate appeared to lose his stride momentarily and Army Hall shot out to win by half a length. It was a thrilling finish which held the spectators breathless for a while. Wonderful Stag took third place in this race and The Gadwall, The Shoveller, The Lion and Gold Bar were among the unplaced.

Mr. Frost's Only Win.

Mr. Frost had only one win during the day and that was in the first race, when, riding The Tiger, he got the best of a bad start and established a lead of several lengths over the first quarter of a mile. Mr. Stanton on Mike and Mr. G. Roza on Nippy caught up the leader in the second quarter, but did not pass him. The position was unchanged in the third quarter and although Mike and Nippy drew up with The Tiger at the head of the straight, Mr. Frost's mount responded very well in the straight to win by a length and a half. Mike finished a neck ahead of Nippy. Little Beaver and Royal Flush were both left at the start, but made up ground rapidly, being within two lengths of the leader after passing The Rock, but the effort and the heavy going told against both these ponies and they faded out in the straight.

Two Wins for Mr. da Roza.

Mr. G. U. da Roza had two wins, bringing in Tommy Boy and Champagne Bay. The last-named was the best pony in the race and Mr. Roza kept him well in front all the way and won easily in the straight. But Tommy Boy was a different proposition. Contrary to expectations, Christmas Joy and Gold Ring, the latter carrying 171 pounds, both accepted for this race. Christmas Joy managed to scramble into a place and started again later in the afternoon when he finished second to Bluelove. Had Christmas Joy been reserved for the latter of his engagements only, he might have won. However, to come back to Tommy Boy's victory, Snappy Eve put up a surprisingly good performance and practically led all the way and it was not until the village was reached that he got within striking distance of Snappy

Eve and Christmas Joy. The last-named lost ground in the straight and Tommy Boy, coming through on the rails, joined Snappy Eve. Mr. Charles on the latter, however, could not get out of Snappy Eve what Mr. Roza was able to get out of Tommy Boy and the latter consequently won by two lengths. Snappy Eve's earlier pace told against him in the straight but on the whole the pony put up a surprisingly good show. He was the least backed pony in the race. The favourite, Cabinet Hall, was unplaced.

Thrilling Finish.

Mr. Fung had only one winning mount, Bluelove, but was unfortunate in not winning with Kate and Indiana. As stated earlier, Kate figured in a thrilling finish with Army Hall and had the ponies not swerved, Kate might have won. Indiana, also, might have won but for the fact that the pony ran wide when he was leading into the straight. Mr. Butler on Workable Stag was leading, and Indiana caught up at the bend and led into the straight. The favourite, White Jade Stag, with Mr. Frost up, could not come up in the earlier part of the race and was several lengths behind in the straight. Having disposed of Workable Stag at the head of the straight, Mr. Fung's mount swerved and Workable Stag came up once again on the rails while White Jade Stag put on a good spurt in the straight. Workable Stag won the race with his stable companion second. Indiana was third. Workable Stag paid $91.90 for a win.

Firefly won the novices race, thanks to a good bit of riding on the part of Mr. Carroll, who figured in a very close finish with Valeta, ridden by Mr. Chanson. Both ponies were dead level at the distance post and in the run home neither would concede an inch, but riding ability told in the end and Firefly gained a fraction of an inch with every stride over the last fifty yards. He ultimately finished a short head (a matter of six inches) ahead of Valeta.

Favourite Falls.

Mr. Benham's mount Helvellyn was made a hot favourite, but failed to get a place. Mr. Miles, on Gallant Fox, which looked a picture of fitness, was thrown after the first quarter mile when the pony accidentally kicked the rail. Gallant Fox would probably have won had he been in the race.

The Australian race went to Mermaid which won by six lengths. Mr. Pany who rode the winner, kept his mount well to the fore most of the way and, coming into the straight, had no difficulty in passing the top weight, The Raindrop, and won easily. The Raindrop, a stable companion of The Raindrop, set an exceedingly fast pace early on, the first half mile being done in 58.4 seconds while the second half mile took 61.3 seconds. Gold Digger, the favourite, ridden by Mr. Frost, could not get up with the leaders early enough and had to be satisfied with third place. The wet state of the course was probably against him.

1. No person shall enter the Colony unless he has in his possession and brings with him into the Colony a valid passport: Provided that no person shall be convicted of an offence against this regulation if he proves that he had in his possession and brought with him into the Colony some other valid document, establishing his nationality and identity and authorising him to travel to and enter the Colony, issued or endorsed, in the case of a British subject or British protected person by a competent British Official, and in other cases by an official having authority to issue or endorse such a document in respect of the person in question.

2.—(1) No passport or travel document shall be deemed to be valid unless—

(a) An indication, either in general terms or specific, which is not invalidated by any other endorsement, appears thereon that the passport or travel document is valid for Hong Kong; and

(b) It was issued or renewed to the holder, in the case of a passport by or on behalf of the Government of the state of which he is a subject or citizen and in the case of a travel document by a competent official, not more than five years before his arrival in the Colony and is still within the period of its validity if any such period be stated; and

(c) It has a photograph of the person or persons to whom it relates so affixed as to obviate the possibility of its removal and the substitution of another photograph, but this condition shall not apply in the case of any Pardanshah or Goshah woman; and

(d) In the case of a person who is neither a British subject nor a British protected person, it bears a visa, by a British Consular Officer in a foreign state or by a duly authorised public officer in some part of His Majesty's dominions, which was granted not more than one year before the arrival of such person in the Colony and is still within the period of its validity, and which is either generally or specifically applicable to the journey on which the holder is engaged or which he has completed by his arrival in the Colony; but this condition shall not apply in the case of a person included in any agreement, applicable to the Colony, between His Majesty's Government or the Government of this Colony and any other Government, for the mutual abolition or waiver of visas.

(2) Neither the possession of a valid passport or travel document, as defined in paragraph (1) of this regulation, nor any visa or endorsement thereon, shall be deemed to imply that the holder will be permitted to land in the Colony, or, if allowed to land, that he will be permitted to stay in the Colony, nor will they serve as any excuse for disobeying any banishment, deportation, or expulsion order.

3. The holder of a passport or travel document with a visa authorising transit only through the Colony shall not remain in the Colony longer than is reasonably necessary to enable him to tranship or to find other means by which to proceed to his destination, and the holder of a passport or travel document with a visa authorising direct transit only shall proceed to his destination by the earliest means of transport of which he can reasonably avail himself: Provided that in either case the duration of the stay in the Colony of any such holder may be extended with the consent in writing of the Inspector General of Police, for which there shall be charged either the fee of $5 or a fee equal to the difference between the cost of a transit visa and the cost of an ordinary visa in the case in question, whichever fee be the higher.

4. Every person who possesses a passport, or other official document establishing his nationality and identity, shall upon demand by any police officer, produce such passport or such other document forthwith (Continued on next column.)

TORRENTIAL RAIN AT FOOCHEW.

NEWS OF THE TEA CROP.

19th ARMY AND THE REDS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Foochow, June 4.
Last month was one of torrential rains with thunder storms, some of which lasted twelve hours. Fortunately, no damage was done. The river is gradually rising, over thirty feet being reported from Yenching, and if the rain continues the Bund here will be under water at high tide.

The Flowery Pekoe tea has arrived on the market but tea men as usual are asking absurd prices so that the market is not yet open. The quality of the tea on the whole is not equal to last season.

A Popular Consul Leaves.

The departure of Mons. R. Soulangue Tassier, French Consul, for Hong Kong, to which place he has been transferred, is regretted by the community. During the period of over seven years in Foochow he has been through times fraught with danger, and incidents requiring a great deal of diplomatic skill which has been appreciated by the Viceroy in the honour bestowed upon him. His successor is Mons. Duval.

On the 24th the Post Office closed its doors and declared a general strike in sympathy with other offices in China. Fortunately, the strike was of short duration and business did not suffer.

Russian Executed.

The bandit responsible for the capture of Miss Halvestadt last Xmas has been caught and paid the extreme penalty at Pagoda. A robber was shot a few feet away from a main roadway in Nantai.

The "Reds."

Quite a lot of interest has been aroused by the 19th Route Army proceeding to Amoy to clear up the bandit menace. A great deal has been read from time to time of such clearances, and when it becomes an accomplished fact, it will doubtless be an occasion for a general holiday.

WATER RATIONS.

EXTENSION IN HOURS OF SUPPLY.

Commencing from yesterday, a four hours' daily supply of water was given from the mains throughout the Colony.

The following are the hours of supply:—Area between Robinson Road and Caine Road, Macdonnell Road, Mountain View and adjacent high points, from 5 a.m. to 7 a.m. and 2.30 p.m. to 4.30 p.m. The hours of supply for the remainder of the Colony are from 6.30 a.m. to 8.30 a.m. and 4.30 p.m. to 6.30 p.m.

The supply from the new group street fountains will be increased from day to day to 12 hours daily—6.30 a.m. to 6.30 p.m.

for the inspection of such police officer.

5.—(1) If any person is convicted of an offence against Regulation 1 or Regulation 3 of these Regulations, it shall be lawful for any magistrate to order that such person shall be expelled from the Colony.

(2) Any such order shall have the effect of authorising any police officer to arrest and detain such person and to do all such other acts as may be necessary to enable such person to be expelled from the Colony by such ship or route as the Governor may determine.

6. These regulations shall not apply to the following:—

(1) Persons of or under the age of fifteen years;

(2) Persons of Chinese race;

(3) Persons who pass through the waters of the Colony without landing in the Colony;

(4) Persons employed in any capacity in the service of any ship, who arrive in the Colony and leave in the same ship on her next departure.

HISTORY OF THE CITY HALL.

REASONS FOR GOVERNMENT RESUMPTION.

"OBJECTS AND REASONS" IN THE GAZETTE.

The text of "a Bill Intituled an Ordinance for the Resumption of the City Hall Property," in the current issue of the "Government Gazette," gives the history of the City Hall. The following are the "Objects and Reasons," which we give in full:—

1. The Building known as the City Hall are situate on Marine Lot No. 82.

2. By Indenture of Crown Lease the Lot was granted by Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, subject to the payment of the nominal sum of five dollars and reserved rental of one dollar per annum for the term of 999 years from March 1, 1890, to three individuals as lessees.—A. Turing, J. Macdonnell and Phineas Rylie.

3. The usual lease covenants in the Indenture (including a ten thousand dollar building covenant) were preceded by the following words:—

"And in order that the covenants hereinafter contained on the lessees part may attach to and run with the said land and the tenancy thereof and be obligatory on the lessees their Executors Administrators and Assigns so long only as they shall be in actual possession of the premises but not further or otherwise the said lessees do jointly and severally for themselves their heirs executors administrators and assigns . . . covenant promise and agree," etc.

4. The final clause is varied, however, by the insertion of the following words:—

"And further that the said lessees their executors administrators and assigns or any other person or persons shall not nor will during the continuance of this demise use the said demised premises otherwise than as and for a City Hall."

5. The final clause in the lease is as follows:—

"And whereas the demise hereinbefore contained has been made by Her said Majesty in order that a fit and proper site may be had solely for the purpose of the said site is considerable, the said demise has been made (of Her said Majesty's favour) without pecuniary consideration but upon the condition next hereinafter expressed, that is to say, Provided lastly that the said demised premises shall not nor shall any part thereof be used for any other purpose than for a City Hall and that in case the said demised premises or any part thereof of shall thereafter be used for any purpose other than for a City Hall, then in every or any such case the term estate and interest thereby demised in the said premises shall thereupon absolutely cease and determine and it shall and may be lawful for Her said Majesty, Her Heirs Successors and Assigns by the Governor of Hong Kong for the time being or other person duly authorised in that behalf into and upon the said demised premises or any part thereof in the name of the whole to re-enter and the same to have again retain possession and enjoy as in Her or their first or former estate and as if these premises had not been made and the said lessees their executors administrators and assigns and all other occupiers of the said premises thereout and thence utterly to expel put out and remove, this Indenture or anything contained therein to the contrary notwithstanding."

6. It is believed that of the three lessees the last survivor was Phineas Rylie, who in Suit No. 93 of 1890 unsuccessfully claimed an injunction against the Government from proceeding with the Praya reclamation opposite Marine Lot 82, and who died on February 21, 1892, devolving to the trustees of his will, their heirs, executors and assigns, subject to the trusts and equities affecting the same, all estates vested in him as trustee. Letters of Administration with the will and codicils annexed were granted on April 14, 1892, to A. W. Walkinshaw, attorney for C. Carey Smith, one of the trustees of the will. The Letters of Administration were not registered against the title in the Land Office and since that date none of the representatives of the lessees seem to have concerned themselves with the property in any way.

7. The buildings appear to have been erected by public subscription, commencing in 1865, each individual, firm or corporation subscribing $100 received a so-called "ordinary share," and 214 of such "shares" of a total nominal value of $21,400 were issued to 61 "shareholders." As the building proceeded it was found that the sum subscribed was insufficient and Sir Robert Jardine, whose firm held fifteen "ordinary shares" appears then to have subscribed $50,000 and to have received 105 so-called "preference shares" of various denominations but totalling $50,000.

8. If these "shareholders" are to be regarded as an association for the purpose of carrying on any business having for its object the acquisition of gain by its individual members it will be illegal under the Companies Ordinances of 1865 and 1911. No interest or return has ever been paid, however, to the holders of any of these shares, the whole income, supplemented by occasional government grants, having been devoted to the upkeep and improvement of the building, with the exception of a small reserve fund which now amounts to about $4,000.

9. The buildings have been managed hitherto by a committee which appears to have been elected by the original subscribers with power to add to its number. None of those originally elected remain, the present members having been co-opted as occasion arose. The senior member in Hong Kong of the firm of Jardine, Matheson & Co. is chairman of the committee.

10. The buildings consist of a theatre on the western portion of the lot and of certain halls and rooms on two floors on the eastern portion. Those on the upper floor have been used for balls, receptions and meetings and those on the lower floor for a free library and museum, and latterly also as a Y.M.C.A. Club for the Naval, Military and Air Forces.

11. The buildings are old and the committee are now faced with the problem of having to spend a sum of money far in excess of any that they are in a position to command to modernise them and to put them into a proper state of repair and of safety against fire or into the state required by law for buildings to which the public have access. They have therefore closed the premises and it becomes necessary for the Government to intervene.

12. In all the circumstances of the case it is considered better for the Government to resume possession of the property by means of an ad hoc Ordinance rather than to proceed under the powers reserved by the Crown Lease.

13. It is not the intention of the Government to re-erect a City Hall on this site, part of which will be sold and part developed to accord with a general scheme of town planning; but as a part of that scheme it is the intention of the Government to make provision for public amenities of the kind hitherto provided by the Committee of the City Hall.

SWATOW

MERCHANTS' LOSSES.

CONFISCATION OF JAPANESE MERCHANDISE.

APPEAL FOR RELEASE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

SWATOW, June 7.
In my previous letter I referred to the merchants' appeal for the release of "sealed" Japanese goods for sale. It is believed that government circles are raising no objections, but the opinions of the other quarters have still to be sought. However, one influential paper, besides being reticent about the ending of the anti-Japanese boycott, is agitating against the movement. It is enlisting the support of the labour unions with inflammatory articles. Three ex-committee members of the Kuomintang Party, and concurrently editors of three dailies, are doing their utmost to prevent the sale, at least for the time being.

General Sympathy.

General Lee Yong Keng—has expressed his sympathy with the merchants, but his subordinate, General Chang, holds a different view. Influential business men inform me that important developments will take place at the end of the month when the summer vacation starts and the bulk of the more rowdy students return home. Dissension always emanates from the students who appear to instil fear upon those who carry on their legitimate business.

School Strike Ends.

The strike of the two municipal schools (one for boys and one for girls) has ended. For the first time the local authorities have won. With the unconditional surrender of the teachers and students, the new principals were installed into office. Some boy and girl students, in the matter of "face pigdin," have quitted and the rest are attending class.

New Aerodrome.

A new aerodrome is in course of erection at Chaochowfu, which will be big enough to accommodate ten machines. Chaochowfu is only 25 miles by rail from Swatow, and the military consider it a safe place in the event of an invasion.

Three or four planes are now attached to this port, the pilots being quartered in the Kwong Tien Hotel, with an armed guard outside.

King's Birthday.

The usual reception was held in the British Consulate on June 3. All the Consuls, and a good number of the British community, were present to toast the health of the King.

New British Consul.

Mr. J. P. Coghill has been appointed to Swatow, to relieve Mr. Blunt who left for Home to-day. Many colleagues and friends were on board to bid him bon voyage.

MOTOR FATALITY.

DRIVER FAILS TO MAKE A REPORT.

Two motor accidents were reported to the police on Saturday, one of which resulted in the death of a Chinese girl. The police are trying to trace the unknown motor car, whose driver did not stop after the accident or make the usual report in such cases.

The girl, Chan Lim Ho, aged seven years, of 48, Hennessy Road, Wanchai, was knocked down by the unknown motor car at about 9 p.m., sustaining injuries to her head. It was midnight when the relatives informed the police, who had her taken to the Government Civil Hospital, where she died soon after admission.

Lieut. H. B. L. Davidson, of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, reported that while driving his private car, 954, along Laichikok Road, near Nanchung Street, a lad named Ho Sam, aged 17, ran from the island in the centre of the road and was knocked down, receiving injuries to his arms and legs. He was later taken to the Kowloon Hospital for treatment.

"HARD-BOILED!"

The "hunger marchers" encamped near Washington on the banks of the Potomac River form a striking and symbolic incident in American policy, based upon what can be called the "hard-boiled" philosophy. The American people have for a matter of some ten years been vastly proud of that philosophy, and are still unwilling to admit that it has gone rotten. They are proud of it because it was tried on them by European statesmen and has been paid back with compound interest, until success has made it the national creed.

When President Wilson came to the Peace Conference at Versailles many years ago he hoped to translate into practical statesmanship the idealism, the desire to remould the world, that had been expressed in the war declarations of the Entente Powers. Now that militarianism had been overthrown, peace and justice were to triumph. President Wilson had clear plans, but was willing to allow wide adjustment; and he had behind him in America a mass of sincere and altruistic opinion. He found nothing of his own spirit of generosity, humanity and world vision. Instead he was alone among harsh and vindictive men, anxious to grab the spoil and only prevented from fighting among themselves by fear of their war-wearied populations, and the thought that at least all were united in getting the utmost from the defeated foe. The diplomatic game was played according to elaborate rules of ancient tradition, and he could make nothing of the situation. He returned to America a broken man, and his countrymen felt that their President had been tricked, insulted and humiliated.

Torrents of anger were loosed both upon President Wilson and upon Europe. Considering the strength, military and economic,
of the United States, and the great part played by that nation in the war, this reaction was inevitable.
America chose as leaders men whose policy was to cut adrift from foreign entanglements, to leave Europe to stew in its own juice, and to insist on payment of War Debts. If Europe had begun the "hard-boiled" game, American under Presidents HARDING and COOKING was ready to take up the challenge. The manner in which Mr. ANDREW MELLON enjoyed Mr. BALDWIN into funding the British debt to America was a further triumph. There was no doubt who got the better of that bargain, and the crown of the joke was to use the money to build the biggest fleet in the world, so that if any two nations fell out, a way would be roughly cleared for American trade with both belligerents. Such was the grim interpretation of President Wilson's "Freedom of the Seas."

Thus the "hard-boiled" doctrine spread. It was hard-boiled to push manufactures abroad and keep out your customer's goods by tariff walls, taking instead his gold and his holdings in the United States.
The cinema industry, thrusting American propaganda in all parts of the world, was hard-boiled. The essence of the philosophy, in fact, getting the better of the other fellow by fair means or foul. The process turned inland. Prohibition was a hard-boiled victory for terrestrial interests over the brewers and distillers; racketeers and gangsters were hard-boiled and the objects of sub rosa admiration; so was the lawyer who could shout the loudest, the publicist who could make people swallow the biggest lies.

Europe responded with a campaign of general vilification of all things American: with savage tariffs, and simultaneously keeping up the wiles that in family life are used in handling a rich but difficult relative.

When the American economic crash came—an appalling tragedy for the whole world—Europe only saw with silly satisfaction the humiliation of a boastful rival.
The discomfort of a handful of bragging writers and politicians, was fully appreciated, and obliterated any visualising of the degeneration, and suffering in hundreds of thousands of homes. Nor was it even realised that America, a tremendous buyer, despite the tariffs, was to have little or nothing to spend abroad.

The tariffs that have choked the channels of trade, the vindictive reparations, the renewed competition of armaments and the wicked propaganda that has stirred up hatred between human individuals merely because they belong to different sections of the world, designed nations, has its source in this worship of the "hard-boiled" ideal. The phrase is American.
The sentiment is not. Europeans were wise enough not to narrow so pernicious an outlook down to a slogan that can be understood, explained and ridiculed. We have had our "hard-boiled" decade, and it is about time we realised that the world is an economic unit, that when one nation damages another, or when one individual cheats another, the net is as sensible if a man cut off a leg under the idea that it would make his arms and heart stronger.

WOMAN'S PART IN RAIDS.

"SHOCKING" RECORD OF DANCER.

Smash-and-grab raids in which a woman dancer was concerned were mentioned at Brighton when Dolly
Baker, aged 27, and John Allan Cross, aged 39, an Australian, admitted stealing a coat from a boarding-house.

The woman admitted that she had been concerned in smash-and-grab raids and that there were 23 convictions against her, the first at Clerkenwell in 1920.

Passing sentence of six months'
hard labour on both the chairman, Mr. Bailey, said that their records were "shocking."

The woman shouted: "We shall be worse when we come out."

★ News and Views ★

Tale of the Day.

A very thin man met a very fat one in the hotel corridor. "From the look of you," said the latter,
"there might have been a famine."
"Yes," was the reply, "and from the look of you, you might have caused it."

So Sick.

The "friendliest" divorcee that Reno has ever known—in four acts:
Ann Harding, the blonde film beauty, arrived there by plane from Hollywood and greeted her husband, Harry Bannister, who met her with a kiss.

A few hours later, after lunching with her husband, she secured a divorce on the ground of cruelty.

After the decree was granted, she and her husband kissed again, pledging themselves to what they called a "dear friendship."

Then they adjourned with a group of friends for a "divorce party."

The couple agreed on a divorce because they considered that Mr.
Bannister was "losing his identity" in furthering his wife's career.
"Divorce," they said, "seems the quickest and best solution for our eventual happiness."

It seems to us as though somebody has slipped something over on even a Reno-divorced court.

Music by Telephone.

"Mr. Blank is engaged. I will give you some music until he is free."

These words are being used hundreds of times a day by telephone operators at the Oxford-street headquarters of The Gramophone Company, for rather than let their customers wait in silence on the other end of the telephone, the H.M.V. technical experts have arranged to give them gramophone music.

Politics Unclothed.

The official ban on the wearing of party uniforms was neatly countered at a Socialist election meeting at Grosvenor, writes the Munich correspondent of The Times.

When the principal speaker arrived from Berlin to address the meeting, he was escorted by a bodyguard of 50 Reichswehr members, bearing the party uniform and all naked, except for bathing "V's."

They ranged themselves on the platform and stood thus throughout the speeches.

That's what we call the real apparition spirit.

companied by a small party of shower of rice descended from the upper decks as he mounted the Better Row Dress.

Sir Walter Gilbey, the veteran horse lover, seated at the luncheon following the great Cart Horse Parade in Regent's Park, N.W., that since his remarks two months ago on riding fashions in Rotten Row he had seen a most marked improvement in the dress of Hyde Park riders.

"I take my hat off to the ladies,"
he said. "There has been an enormous improvement in their dress.
The children have also improved.
We are the greatest horse-riding nation in the world, and as the children take the cue from their parents, if we are to keep up our traditions the fathers and mothers must dress better. Heavy expenditure is not required to make a good appearance in the Row."

Sir Walter recommended Mayfair riders to take a lesson from Cockney van-drivers.

"I wish," he said, "that those riders in Hyde Park who forget the way to turn out with a horse would come to see how well turned out is the equipment of these humble drivers. The treatment these working people give to their horses is an example to all."

Unpopular.

A woman of 49 said at Clerkenwell County Court, E.C., that she was the mother of 17 children by her first marriage, 16 of whom were living. She had recently married again.

The Registrar, Mr. Friend, how did the family welcome their stepfather?
Woman: Not very well. At the reception after my second wedding they punished him so severely that he has not been able to work since.
It really does look as though stepfather was not wanted.

Air Mystery Solved.

Wireless messages received at Land's End, Cornwall, from two American steamers stating that they had seen a seaplane flying from west to east 150 miles from Land's End gave rise to a report that a mystery machine was flying the Atlantic.

The puzzle was rapidly cleared up by the control tower at Croydon
Aerodrome—the nerve-centre of fly-

CLERKS IN DEBT.

UNABLE TO REPAY MONEY
LENDERS.

ORDERS MADE BY COURT.

Three Portuguese clerks, Cecilio
Paulo Pintos, Luiz Gonzaga
Morales and William Frederico
Gardner, appeared before Sir
Joseph Kemp in the Bankruptcy Court on Saturday as a result of dealings with Indian money-lenders whom they are now unable to repay. The liabilities of the debtors on promissory notes amount to a total of about $50,000.

Debtors were examined by Mr. E.
L. Agassiz, Official Receiver, and adjudication orders were made in each case.

Family Troubles.

C. P. Pintos said that he was married two years ago. He began to borrow money owing to his father's death and family's sickness. He was at present earning a salary of $340 a month at the Holland China Trading Company. He was prepared to contribute $70 a month towards his liabilities. The order was made.

L. G. Morales, aged 33 years, said he was a clerk. His liabilities totalled $4,092. His mother fell ill some years ago, and he borrowed money for the family's upkeep owing to sickness. He was prepared to pay $15 a month into the Court. The order was granted.

W. F. Gardner, a clerk of the Union Insurance Co., said he lived at 732, Nathan Road, and had a wife and eight children. He could not manage on $200 a month without borrowing as he could not make ends meet. In 1920 or 1921, he began to borrow money, as his salary was small. He was prepared to pay $30 a month towards his liabilities. An adjudication order was made.

Debtor Reprimanded.

Yung Fook Chiu, alias Yung Fok, Koon Tong, alias Yung Fok, who was ordered to come up for discharge, turned up late.

His Lordship: Why were you not here when your name was called?

Debtor: I was late in catching the launch.

His Lordship: That is not sufficient excuse. In your absence proceedings could have been taken to commit you to prison.

Asked why he had not filed his application, debtor replied that he had no money to pay the Court fee of $4.

The Official Receiver, informed his Lordship that debtor had un-distributed money which amounted to $91, from which he suggested the $34 should be taken.

His Lordship granted the order, and warned debtor not to be late on the day fixed for his attendance.
The Court was adjourned sine die.

Hong Kong has had a four years' experience of the Public Health

Commission which sat to inquire into the irregularities to which that measure gave rise has enabled us to count the cost. No one doubts the genuineness of the motives and the hopes of reform which inspired its framers, but the clumsy and overladen Ordinance was drawn up without a knowledge of human nature as it is found in Hong Kong and without a due ap-

ANGLO-IRISH
CONFERENCEPROLONGED DISCUSSION
FAILS

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUHRY, June 11.
CONSULTATIONS between representatives of the British and Irish Free State Government, which were begun in Dublin on Tuesday, and concluded in London to-day, failed to solve the difficulties which have arisen regarding negotiations connected with the Ottawa Economic Conference.

A communiqué which was issued after the Conference had dispersed at about 5 o'clock was as follows:

"A meeting took place between the President and vice-President of the Executive Council of the Irish Free State, Mr. de Valera and Mr. Sean O'Kelly, and the Prime Minister, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, the Lord President of Council, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the Home Secretary, Sir Herbert Samuel, the Dominions Secretary, Mr. J. H. Thomas, and the Minister of War Lord Hailsham, at No. 10, Downing Street at 11.30 a.m.

The meeting was adjourned at 1.30 p.m. and resumed one hour later.

There was prolonged discussion of the points at issue, but it was not found possible to reach an agreement.

In view of the attitude adopted by Mr. de Valera and his Ministers on the Oath of Allegiance Bill, now before the Free State Legislature, the failure of the Conference has caused very little surprise in political circles here.

The Dominions Secretary was present at Euston Station, later, when Mr. de Valera left on his return to Dublin.

Mr. Thomas told the Press that the Conference had passed off quietly and the questions before them discussed with excellent good humour.

Two persons suffered slight shock, but no one was seriously injured. Passengers in the rear of the train were unaware of the cause of the stoppage. The electric current was automatically cut off when the coaches left the metals.

PROSPECTS OF LAUSANNE CONFERENCE
Cancellation Of Reparations And War Debts ProbableFRANCE MAY ACCEPT BRITAIN'S POLICYEQUAL CONCESSIONS FROM U.S.A. EXPECTEDHope That Germany Will Fall Into Line

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 12.
PROSPECTS OF THE LAUSANNE CONFERENCE, WHICH IS OPENING ON THURSDAY, ARE GIVEN PROMINENCE IN THE SUNDAY NEWSPAPERS.

IT IS AGREED, THAT AFTER A PERIOD OF GLOOM, HOPES AT LAUSANNE HAVE SUDDENLY BRIGHTENED IN VIEW OF THE BELIEF THAT FRANCE MAY SOON BE READY TO ACCEPT THE BRITISH POLICY TO COMPLETE THE CANCELLATION OF REPARATIONS AND WAR DEBTS, PROVIDED THE PRINCIPLE CONTRACTS ARE UPHOLD AND THAT ANY CONCESSIONS MADE IN EUROPE ARE MATCHED BY EQUAL CONCESSIONS ON THE PART OF AMERICA.

IT IS UNDERSTOOD THAT MR. RAMSAY MACDONALD WILL ATTEMPT TO RECONCILE THE ANGLO-FRENCH VIEWS BY PROPOSING A FURTHER MORATORIUM OF SIX MONTHS FOR REPARATIONS AND WAR DEBTS, AND THE HANDLING OVER OF THE GERMAN RAILWAY BONDS IN FINAL SETTLEMENT OF GERMANY'S OBLIGATIONS FOR HER REPARATIONS TO HER CREDITORS.

IT IS HOPED THAT THE NEW GERMAN GOVERNMENT MIGHT SWALLOW THIS PILL FOR THE SAKE OF DEFINITE SETTLEMENT, BUT, MEANWHILE, THE POSITION OF THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT IS SAID TO BE PRECARIOUS, OWING TO MON. GERMAIN MARTIN, THE FINANCE MINISTER, AND MON. PALMADE, THE BUDGET MINISTER, THREATENING TO RESIGN UNLESS THE GOVERNMENT ADOPTS THEIR PROGRAMME OF DRASTIC REDUCTIONS IN PUBLIC EXPENDITURE INCLUDING AN ALL-ROUND CUT IN SALARIES AGAINST WHICH CIVIL SERVANTS ARE MOBILISING.

A SUCCESSFUL CONFERENCE

PARIS, June 12.

MR. RAMSAY MACDONALD, SIR JOHN SIMON, M. HERRIOT AND M. GERMAIN MARTIN, THE MINISTER OF FINANCE, WERE IN CONFERENCE FROM 10 A.M. UNTIL 1.30 P.M., AFTER WHICH THE FOLLOWING COMMUNIQUE WAS ISSUED:

"FRIENDLY AND INFORMAL CONVERSATIONS DEMONSTRATED A COMMUNITY VIEW WHICH AUGURS JUST EFFICACIOUS SOLUTIONS TO THE LAUSANNE CONFERENCE AS WELL AS STRENGTHENING CONFIDENCE AND THE MAINTENANCE OF INTERNATIONAL PEACE."

THE LENGTH OF THE CONFERENCE AND THE OPTIMISTIC TONE OF THE COMMUNIQUE INDICATE A THOROUGH EXPLORATION, AND IT IS EXPECTED PRACTICAL RESULTS WILL BE ACHIEVED.

BRITISH MINISTERS
IN PARIS

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

LONDON, June 11.
THE Prime Minister, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, accompanied by the Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, left London this morning for Paris.

They will be the guests of the French Premier, M. Herriot, at dinner this evening, when discussions, which will be continued to-morrow, on questions awaiting consideration at the Conference in Lausanne and Geneva will be opened.

Consultation with the French Government follows upon intimate exchange of views between the British Prime Minister and the new Foreign Minister of Germany.

The conversation must, in the nature of things, be purely preliminary.

The Times says: "For reasons which, if disappointing, are conclusive, the Government of the United States are taking no part in the Lausanne Conference and the immediate business of the British and French Governments at the Paris meeting to-morrow is to discuss, as between themselves, what measure of legal cancellation is possible of the European inter-Governmental debts which in any case are not going to be paid for the present. The larger the view that is taken the better is the prospect of a useful settlement.

"Complete and immediate cancellation may be neither practicable nor, in eyes of many, morally just or commercially desirable.

Britain Can Give Bold Lead.

On other hand, nobody in this country really expects that any further payments will be made from Germany to Great Britain, and the British Prime Minister should therefore be in a position to give a bold lead to hasten the process of making for ultimate and inevitable cancellation.

Special points to be raised by M. Herriot in the Anglo-French conversations were discussed at yesterday's meeting of the French Cabinet.

M. Herriot Sees Good Omen.

Later, according to the correspondent of the News Chronicle, M. Herriot said that he regarded as a good omen fact that as British and French viewpoints stand at present there is but very little difference between them.

During their Paris visit the British Ministers will stay at the British Embassy. The time of their departure for Switzerland is not yet definitely fixed, but it is anticipated that they will leave early next week, visiting Geneva on the way to Lausanne, where the Reparations Conference opens on Thursday.

SHANGHAI, June 11.
There is considerable anxiety about the yacht Chelidon, which sailed from Shanghai with four young yachtsmen aboard, on a lone voyage to Nagasaki. Much interest was taken in the projected voyage, and the skipper, Helmut Aust, with his crew of three friends were given a great send off.

In ordinarily good weather the Chelidon should have reached Nagasaki on the 9th instant.

Friends and relatives of the crew are bombarding the newspaper offices with requests for the latest news, but up to the time of going to press no intelligence has been received.

Ernest Brinkert's arrest followed the identification of his photograph on Thursday by Miss Violet Sharp, the English maid in the employment of Mrs. Morrow, widow of the late Senator Dwight Morrow, and mother-in-law of Col. Lindbergh.

Violet Sharp caused a sensation by committing suicide by poisoning following the identification of Brinkert's photograph. charge of the New Jersey investigations in connection with the Lindbergh kidnapping case, stated that the suicide of the maid tended to show that she had guilty knowledge of the kidnapping. He also suspected the dead girl's sister, Edith, who was alleged to have left for England four days after Dr. Condon handed over the $20,000 to a mysterious intermediary, whom he now identified as Brinkert, and Scotland Yard has been requested to interview Edith Sharp.

Mrs. Morrow, on the other hand, believes that both Violet and Edith Sharp are innocent.

Two Men Now in Custody.

Two men are now in custody in connection with the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby—Brinkert and Harry Fischer, the notorious leader of the "Purple Gang," who had been sought for throughout the United States since the beginning of the Lindbergh kidnapping affair. He surrendered to the Police at Detroit on Thursday.

The dead maid, Violet Sharp, had not been heard of in connection with the kidnapping until her suicide brought her into prominence. On the other hand, the Lindberghs' own maid, engaged to take care of the kidnapped baby, has been under suspicion immediately following the disappearance of the child.

This maid, Miss Gow, a Scottish girl, and her "young man," the Lindberghs' chauffeur, were subjected to close scrutiny by the Police and eventually exonerated.

HOME CRICKET RESULTS

COUNTY CHAMPIONS' FINE WIN: GOOD BOWLING BY BOWES.

FOUR PLAYERS SCORE CENTURIES: AMAR SINGH GETS ELEVEN CAMBRIDGE WICKETS.

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

London, June 10.

A feature of the mid-week cricket programme was Yorkshire's convincing win over Gloucester at Bristol by an innings and 95 runs. They showed much better form than they did in their previous matches this season, the hero of the match being Bowes who bowled extremely well in both innings.

Four players reached the hundred mark while five topped 50 but failed to get the magical three figures. The highest scorer was Mitchell of Yorkshire who treated Gloucester's bowling with scant respect to score 140 runs. The Nawab of Patandi was in fine form with the bat when playing for M.C.C. against Kent, he was undefeated with 84 in the first innings while he collected 73 in the second knock.

The most outstanding performances with the bat and ball were:

Batting.	Bowling.
Mitchell (Yorks) v. Gloucester 140	Amar Singh 5 for 30 and 8 for 70
E. Tyldesley (Lancs.) v. Hampshire 122	Bowes 5 for 49 and 5 for 38
B. Rutcliffe (Cambridge) v. All-India 112	Hardinge 7 for 64 and Herman 6 for 82

GLoucester v. YORKSHIRE.

BOWES BOWLS WELL.

At Bristol (Fry's ground), Yorkshire beat Gloucester by an innings and 95 runs.

Mitchell delighted his supporters by batting superbly for 140 runs when Yorkshire took first innings and compiled the formidable total of 418 runs. Gloucester could not make much headway against Yorkshire's attack and were soon dismissed for 173, Bowes getting 5 wickets for 49 runs. As a result, Gloucester were forced to follow on but this time they did even worse, their total being just 150. Bowes (5 for 58) was again the most successful bowler for Yorkshire.

QUAL TEAM WINS.

Playing on their own ground, Surrey beat Derby by 199 runs. To Surrey's total of 315 in the first innings, Derby replied with but 108. Then in the second knock Surrey declared at 207 for 9 after which they got Derby out for 135 when the latter went in for the second time.

The scores were:—
Surrey, 1st innings	315
Derby, 1st innings	108
Surrey, 2nd innings (for 9 wickets, declared)	207
Derby, 2nd innings	135

LANCS. v. HANTS.

TYLDESLEY'S CENTURY.

Lancashire took first innings points from Hampshire when they met on the former's ground.

The home county, batting first, put up 283 runs despite some fine bowling by Herman who took 8 wickets for 83 runs. Hampshire also did quite well, being only 11 runs behind in the first innings.

Going in for the second time, Lancashire declared at 215 for 2, thanks to a not out century by Tyldesley, who made 122 runs. Hampshire had lost two wickets for 21 runs in the second innings when stumps were drawn.

The scores were:—
Lancashire, 1st innings	283
Herman, 8 for 83
Hampshire, 1st innings	272
Lancashire, 2nd innings (2 wickets, declared)	215
Hampshire, 2nd innings (total for 2 wickets)	21

NORTHANTS. v. ESSEX.

TIMMS JUST MISSES A CENTURY.

Timms had had luck in missing his century by only three runs when Northamptonshire, playing on their own ground, beat Essex on the first innings.

Northants made 259 when they took first innings and to this score Essex replied with 220. In their second knock Northants declared at 284 for 9, Timms being top scorer with 97. He was batting very well and it appeared that he would collect a four to reach the land of the magical three figures when he lost his wicket. Scoring rather rapidly, Essex had collected 136 for 3 when stumps were drawn.

The scores were:—
Northants, 1st innings	259
Essex, 1st innings	220
Northants, 2nd innings (9 wickets, declared)	284
Timms, 97
Essex, 2nd innings (for 3 wickets)	136

WARWICK v. MIDDLESEX.

A CAPTAIN'S CENTURY.

At Birmingham, Warwick took first innings points from Middlesex. The latter had first use of the wickets and their effort realised 184 runs. Warwick replied with 201 runs of which Croom, batting in fine style, claimed 90.

The captains of both sides came off with the bat in the second knock. Nigel Haig made 98 to help Middlesex score 377 while R. E. S. Wyatt was undefeated for 103 when his side made 277 for 9.

The scores were:—
Middlesex, 1st innings	184
Warwick, 1st innings	201
Croom, 90
Middlesex, 2nd innings	377
Haig, 98
Warwick, 2nd innings (for 9 wickets)	277
Wyatt, 103

CAMBRIDGE v. ALL-INDIA.

AMAR SINGH'S GOOD BOWLING.

Amar Singh, hailed as one of the most consistent bowlers in the All-India team which is at present touring England, came off with flying colours in their match against Cambridge at Fenner's when the Indians won by nine wickets. In two innings Singh took 11 wickets for 100 runs.

The University had first use of the wickets but the visitors' bowling proved too good for them and they were all out for only 92 runs. Amar Singh bowled well to get 5 wickets for 40 runs.

wickets at the cost of 6 runs each. Colah, played free cricket for 96 runs, this player being extremely unfortunate in getting out when he wanted but four runs for his century. Thanks to his effort, however, India's innings realised 308 runs.

When Cambridge went in for the second time, Amar Singh was again in good form with the ball, and taking 6 for 70 this time, was chiefly instrumental in getting the Light Blues out for 274, despite a dashing innings for 112 not out by Rutcliffe. All India then went in and got the required runs for the loss of only 1 wicket.

The scores were:—
Cambridge, 1st innings	92
Amar Singh, 5 for 30
All-India, 1st innings	308
Colah, 96
Cambridge, 2nd innings	274
Rutcliffe, 112 not out.
Amar Singh, 6 for 70
All-India, 2nd innings (for 1 wicket)	50

M.C.C. v. KENT.

PATANDI IN FORM.

The Nawab of Patandi displayed brilliant form when playing for M.C.C. against Kent at Lord's. He made 84 not out in the first innings and scored 74 in his second knock, but despite his efforts, M.C.C. were beaten by 10 wickets. For their fine win Kent are indebted to Hardinge and Woolley who showed excellent form with the ball and bat, respectively.

Batting first, M.C.C. put up 265 with the Nawab of Patandi (84, not out) as top-scorer. Hardinge bowled well for Kent, his figures being 7 for 64. Kent then went in to make 481, a feature of their innings being Woolley's knock for 47. "Frank" was decidedly unlucky to miss his century by such a narrow margin, but during his stay at the wickets he had the satisfaction of showing the critics that he is still one of the finest bats in the country.

The scores were:—
M.C.C., 1st innings	265
Patandi, 84 not out
Hardinge, 7 for 64
Kent, 1st innings	481
Woolley, 47

"LOYAL PROMISE" BY MRS. MEYRICK.

NIGHT CLUB PROPRIETRESS BOUND OVER.

COUNSEL SAYS SHE HAS VERY LITTLE MONEY NOW.

Mrs. Kate Meyrick, the night club proprietress, gave the undertaking which Mr. Dummett, the Marlborough-street magistrate suggested to her after convicting her of selling drinks without a licence at the Bunch of Keys Club, Gerard-street, W.

There were two summonses against her and on the first she was fined 250 and ordered to pay 80 guineas costs, and on the second she was bound over for three years.

Mr. Dummett had said that he did not want to send Mrs. Meyrick to prison again, and would like her to give "a public and honourable undertaking never to be connected again with this sort of business," and if the Commissioner agreed, that if she ever ran another dance club, to give access to the police day or night.

At the same time Mr. Dummett warned her that if she offended again she would get "the severest punishment," and the present offence would be taken into consideration.

The first summons against Mrs. Meyrick related to the selling of intoxicating liquor on February 11, and the second to a similar offence on February 19.

Club Struck Off.

Richard Carliah, of Uxbridge road, Ealing, W., who was similarly summoned in respect of February 19, was fined 25s or two months' imprisonment; and Paul Ghini, of Myatt-road, Brixton, S.W., summoned for aiding and abetting, was fined 25s or a month.

The club was struck off the register and the premises disqualified for twelve months.

Opening the proceedings to-day, Mr. Knight, for the police, reminded Mr. Dummett that he would require from Mrs. Meyrick and Carliah a permanent undertaking not to sell or have anything to do with the sale of intoxicants and not to have a club on the premises at all.

"There Must be No Evasion."

Mr. L. D. Woolfe said he was prepared to give that undertaking on behalf of all the defendants.

Mrs. Meyrick desired to dispose of the whole business. If the club were struck off no club would be registered by her at the premises in future.

Mr. Dummett. I do not like the sound of that. There must be no evasion of this by transfer in any shape or form.

Mr. Woolfe.—We given an undertaking that we shall not register a club at these premises.

Mr. Knight said that the undertaking should be, not only to not register any club at the premises, but not to allow the premises to be used as a club at all.

Mr. Woolfe intimated that they were prepared to accept that.

"Accept Loyalty."

Mr. St. John Hutchinson (Mrs. Meyrick's counsel) said that he had had a chat with her, and she would accept the undertaking and accept it loyally. On the question of punishment he pointed out that Mrs. Meyrick was no longer in the financial position that she had once been in. He added:

"She has very little money indeed now, and if you impose too large a fine, the very thing you are trying to evade would happen. She would have to go to prison. In those circumstances I hope the monetary punishment, though perhaps a large fine has been justly earned, will not be too heavy."

Mr. Hutchinson pointed out that Carliah had been out of work for some weeks and that he was acting merely as a paid servant at the time of the raid.

Mr. Dummett.—I do not want to send Mrs. Meyrick to prison if the main object, which to my mind is the prevention of a repetition of these offences, can be obtained more effectively otherwise. I think that could be obtained in the way I (Continued at foot of next column.)

OPERATIONS TO RESTORE HER LOOKS.

HOSPITAL TRAGEDY OF WOUNDED WIFE AND HUSBAND.

"SHE HAD BEEN THROUGH A LOT, POOR THING."

The tragedy of a woman who was having treatment at the hands of Sir Harold Gillies, the eminent plastic surgeon, and had seven operations in six months in the hope of restoring her good looks, was the subject of an inquest at Hammersmith, W., to-day.

The woman was Mrs. Elizabeth Lloyd, aged 36, of Penrhynweiber, Aberdare, South Wales, who was found with throat wounds in a ward in Hammersmith Hospital, Shepherd's Bush, W., where she was a patient.

Her husband, who is said to have travelled from Wales to see her, was also discovered with wounds, and is in hospital.

A brother, Thomas Williams, a coal miner, of London-street, Mountain Ash, South Wales, said his sister had been married for 12 years, and lived happily with her husband.

He last saw her six months ago, the night before she came to London for treatment in Hammersmith Hospital for a facial disfigurement which she had had for 13 or 14 years. He had received two or three letters from her since then in which she wrote very cheerfully, and said she was improving.

Seven Operations.

Mr. Williams said that the couple had one child, a boy of about ten.

Dr. Bryan Williams, medical officer at Hammersmith Hospital, said after the discovery Mrs. Lloyd was taken in the bed to the operating theatre, and while she "was there a razor was found in the bed by a nurse."

Dr. A. D. Morris, acting medical superintendent at the hospital, said that the husband was progressing favourably, and would probably be able to give evidence in a fortnight's time.

Mrs. Lloyd had had about seven operations during the last six months, and they were all done by the plastic surgeon, Sir Harold Gillies. She was due for another operation shortly.

The Coroner.—She "had been through a lot, poor thing"—Yes.

Sir Bernard Spilshury said that the wound, in his opinion, was a homicidal one.

It was apparently caused by another person standing somewhere behind Mrs. Lloyd and passing the hand around the neck.

A nurse from the hospital, Nurse Jessie McRiche, said when she came on duty at 8 o'clock on Monday night Mr. Lloyd was sitting by his wife's bedside.

Nine Hours at Bedside.

They were talking in an ordinary way and seemed quite friendly.

Nurse McRiche said she was told that Mr. Lloyd had been with his wife since 1 o'clock. When she left the ward just before ten she heard screams, and rushed back. She said:

"I found Mrs. Lloyd sitting up in bed with blood pouring from her throat. Her husband was sitting on a chair, half lying forward on the bed."

Although inquiries had been made, no one appeared to see the tragedy actually committed.

The inquest was adjourned the coroner saying that if a criminal charge were made the jury's attendance would not be further required.

UNITED STATES AND RUSSIA.

CONGRESS AGITATION FOR RECOGNITION.

IMPROVEMENT OF TRADE RELATIONS.

Washington, May 29.—Political considerations arising out of Far East unrest, and promises of a new large market for depressed American industry, were given to-day by Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, as reasons for American recognition of Soviet Russia and causes for the agitation toward such recognition which has developed in Congress.

With recent weeks more than a score of Senators have joined with Mr. Borah in his advocacy of recognition. "Formerly he was known as the single outstanding advocate."

A United Press poll of members of the Foreign Relations Committee recently showed that fully half of them favoured closer relations with Russia if not complete recognition. Out of 22 members 10 favoured recognition, and two more were for "some friendly gesture" which would improve trade relations. Two others were "open-minded" on the question, while one member was absent, one non-committal and the remainder strongly opposed.

Discussions with Members.

Discussion with a number of those members who favour recognition disclosed that their views supported Borah's analysis as to the causes of the present increased sentiment for recognition.

Senator Hiram Johnson, from California, explained his position as follows: "For two persuasive and compelling reasons, we should get our relations with Russia back to normal. Firstly, there are billions of dollars worth of future orders in Russia for American workers to fill. Secondly, the question of peace or war to-day is more delicately balanced than at any time since 1914. At any moment, the Far East may explode, plunging us into another terrible conflict. The United States does not want another world war, whether it starts in the Far East or elsewhere. Japan would not have the moral support of this country in an attempted conquest of Russia and we should make this clear."

Prompt Consideration.

Senator Joseph T. Robinson, the Democratic floor leader, said: "As one factor in a policy of promoting amicable international relations and stimulating our foreign commerce, I believe that prompt consideration should now be given to establishment of diplomatic and trade relations with Russia. Such a course in my opinion, does not involve approval of the political policies of Soviet Russia. It means application of well-established principles of international law, as well as recognition of the significance of export trade to the problem of unemployment now most acute of all our difficulties."

Senator George W. Norris, Progressive Republican, said: "We are deliberately killing trade and destroying international relations with one of the world's largest countries to our own disadvantage and distress." Senator Gerald Nye said: "Shut out Russian trade and Russia will have to raise cash by depriving her own people and dumping on world markets goods she should be consuming. This will, of course, hurt our own farmers, timber, oil, mining and other producers. Without normal trade relations, Russia may well become a menace we now falsely claim she is."

"Difficulty to Explain."

The majority leader of the Lower House, Congressman Henry T. Rainey, explained his views in part as follows: "It is difficult to explain but we certainly have less to fear from Communism than Germany and Germany does not fear contamination through trade and commerce. I think it is due to stupid propaganda by 'White' or 'Czarist' Russians who have their largest colonies here, next to Paris and Manchuria. This propaganda is well financed and is assisted by fifth column producers. Another reason is that American newspapers seem to print only sensational 'things' about Russia. We have certainly been misled and it is costing us millions in money."

"INJUSTICE" TO BE REMEDIED.

REAPPEARANCE OF HITLER'S ARMY FORESHADOWED.

GERMAN MINISTER INTERVIEWED.

Berlin, June 5.—The speedy reappearance of Herr Hitler's "Brown Army" in a modified form has been foreshadowed by the Home Minister, Baron von Geyl, in an interview.

He declared that "every injustice perpetrated against different forms of the nationalist movements will be abolished."

The "Brown Army" of Hitler was dissolved by the Brüning Government through a special emergency decree.

In the course of the coming week, the new Government is expected to examine all of Dr. Brüning's emergency measures and decrees and make announcements as to its policy concerning them.

The Lausanne Reparations conference programme will be discussed by the Government after the return of Dr. von Neurath, the Foreign Minister, from London.

The Government has issued a statement categorically denying a report, now being widely circulated, that President von Hindenburg intends to resign in the autumn and may be succeeded by the former Crown Prince William.

SOCIETY MURDER TRIAL

STORY OF STRUGGLE FOR POSSESSION OF REVOLVER

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 11. SENSATIONAL evidence was foreshadowed at the Westminster Police Court, at the resumed hearing of the Barney case when the Crown Prosecutor, Mr. Wallace, K.C., announced that in addition to the charge of murder of Mr. Stephen on May 31, Mrs. Barney is to be charged with shooting at Stephen with intent to do grievous bodily harm on May 19.

Mr. Wallace detailed incidents at the cocktail party on the night of May 30, and asserted that a neighbour was awakened at 4.30 a.m. on the following morning by hysterical quarrelling in Mrs. Barney's flat, the woman screaming: "Get out of my house or I will shoot you."

"Oh, God, What Have I Done?"

This was followed by a shot and then Stephen shouted: "Oh, God, what have you done?"

Thereafter the woman sobbed: "Chicken, I am sorry, come back to me."

Mr. Wallace read a voluntary statement made by Mrs. Barney containing allusion to the quarrel between her and Stephen about "a woman he was fond of."

She struggled with him for possession of her revolver which he wanted to take away from her. "It went off," she said, "our hands were together."

She then telephoned for a doctor and meanwhile Stephen moaned: "Why doesn't the doctor come, I want to tell him that it was your fault."

Mr. Wallace foreshadowed that the evidence of Sir Bernard Spilsbury will express the opinion that it was most improbable that the wound was inflicted accidentally, but that Stephen had shot himself.

As regards the second charge, he said, the neighbour already mentioned would give evidence regarding an early morning quarrel outside the flat of Mrs. Barney when she pointed a small bright revolver at Stephen, fired and missed.

Sir John and Lady Mullens, Mrs. Barney's parents, were present in Court and frequently consulted with their daughter's Counsel, Mr. Patrick Hastings, K.C.

The accused was a pathetic figure with greying hair, pale lips, and undernourished black skull cap. She gazed around wild-eyed, but regained her composure and made notes as the case proceeded.

Another neighbour testified to hearing four shots following a quarrel on the fatal night, and also as to an incident three weeks earlier when Mrs. Barney was alleged to have called out: "Smile, baby, smile for the last time."

A little later Mrs. Barney "threw out his clothes from the window into the moat."

SUNKEN TREASURE

LINER'S STRONG ROOM REACHED

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BREST, June 10. AFTER years of disappointment and danger to Italian divers, the salvage ship Artiglio has succeeded in penetrating the treasure room of the sunken liner Egypt.

The ceiling of the strong room was blown out yesterday by means of chain bombs placed in position by four divers.

A case containing a packet of notes to the value of 15,000 rupees was first to be recovered, and work is proceeding.

THE THRIFTY BRITISHER

AMAZING TOTAL OF SMALL SAVINGS

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUSSIA, June 11. A REMARKABLE increase in the amount of savings of all kinds by small investors, was revealed at the National Savings Assembly, at Blackpool, Major-General the Rt. Hon. J. R. B. Seeley, Chairman of the National Savings Committee, stated that in 1911 the total of small savings amounted to £102,000,000, or £12 per head of the population.

In 1916, when the National Savings movement first came into being with the formation of the National War Savings Committee, the total small savings had increased to £687,000,000, an average of £16 per head.

In the five years from 1916 to 1921 the figures were doubled, reaching £1,419,000,000 or £23 per head of the population. By the end of 1931, in spite of the difficult period, the total small savings had risen to the amazing figure of £2,274,000,000, or £50 per head of the population.

FOREIGN OBSERVERS AT OTTAWA CONFERENCE

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUSSIA, June 11. A REPORT from Ottawa states that foreign countries will be represented at the Imperial Economic Conference by observers has been misunderstood in some quarters.

Such observers would have no official status and would not, of course, attend the meetings between representatives of the Dominions at which questions of inter-imperial economic relations were under detailed examination.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

KELING, June 11. MACHINERY for the biggest drive against Communism in the history of China was set in motion when General Chiang Kai Shek, who is leaving here to-night, arrives in Hankow to-morrow morning.

General Chiang Kai Shek, who is travelling in the gunboat Yungai, accompanied by his wife, has broken the journey here for a few days' rest before proceeding to Hankow, to undertake what may prove to be one of the most strenuous campaigns since the establishment of the National Government.

His mission is to overthrow the so-called Soviet Republic of Central China but this is likely to prove as difficult a nut to crack as the Yen-Feng Rebellion in 1930, when success was achieved only after a most strenuous and expensive campaign.

T. V. SOONG RETIRES

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, June 11. MR. T. V. SOONG, in one of the most eloquent statements ever issued by a retiring Minister, recapitulated the measures which averted the threatened moratorium and collapse of Government finances, and says that during the past four months the Government had been able to balance its income and expenditure and dispense with borrowing.

He asserts that the liquidation of the Shanghai affair closed another chapter in National finances, and as he feels unequal to the strain of further office, he has resigned.

Mr. Soong adds that there was no denying that the first duty of the State is the liberation of the Yangtze Provinces from the ravages of the Communists and bandits.

Two Ways of Raising Funds:

Neither Practical!

Normally, he says, there are two ways of raising funds, namely, taxation and borrowing. In the present circumstances addition of taxation was not justifiable, while borrowing lies ruin, in the form of political instability and ultimate disaster.

In a statement which is very lengthy, Mr. Soong does not say anything to confirm reports that he is resuming office.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, June 11. THE Japanese flagship, Yamato, sailed for Japan this morning, leaving Admiral Nomura and Shiozawa, the cruiser Yamaguchi, Rear-Admiral Uyonaka, who a few days ago relinquished the command of the Japanese naval landing party at Shanghai.

Admiral Nomura was one of the victims of the bomb outrages in Hongkong Park on April 23, and his left eye had to be removed as a result of injuries he received.

CHEN MAY GO TO MOSCOW

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

THE "YES" AND "NO" BUS SERVICE

NEW PROBLEM FOR LONDON COACH PASSENGERS

Travellers on the Amersham-London coaches of the Amersham and District Bus Company are puzzled. Between Gerrards Cross and Uxbridge, passengers cannot be picked up on the way to London, but they can get off. Thus a passenger can alight at Denham on the way to London, but if a passenger were waiting to get on at this spot he could not do so.

From London to Amersham the position is reversed. Between Gerrards Cross and Uxbridge passengers are not allowed off, but they can get on.

The "national" causes confusion and much grumbling.

RAID BY ARMED MASKED MEN

MIDNIGHT DRAMA IN A DANCE HALL

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

A dramatic story of an attack by masked men on the secretary and night watchman of a South London dance hall was told at the South-Western Police Court.

Two brothers, Harry Goad, aged 30, and Philip Goad, aged 10, of Holmewood-road, Brixton-hill, S.W., were remanded, charged with being concerned, with a third man not in custody, in breaking into the Leacroft Dance Hall, Streatham, and stealing £408.

There were further charges against the men of having assaulted William Fox, the secretary, and Harry Goad, the night watchman, by knocking them unconscious and binding and gagging them.

Mr. E. Clayton, prosecuting, said that Mr. Fox was taken to hospital, and was in a serious condition with concussion and a broken hand.

Heard, giving evidence, said he locked the premises at about midnight on April 3, after a dance.

Mr. Fox remained behind with him.

Media With Slits for the Eyes.

"After making a tour of the premises, I went to the manager's office, leaving Mr. Fox in his own house. When I got to the manager's office I heard a strange noise in the secretary's office. When I got as far as the door of the manager's office I received a punch on the nose from someone's fist."

"I saw the outline of a man wearing a kind of black stocking over his face, with slits for the eyes. I was dazed and bleeding from my nose and mouth."

"Another man, also wearing a mask, appeared, and the two tied my hands behind me and tied my ankles together. I was then placed on the floor and a pink handkerchief was tied over my mouth."

"One of the men stayed with me and the other went away. I was told to keep my mouth shut. Both the men carried guns."

"I was left alone after five minutes, and crawled along to Mr. Fox's office. I kicked at the door and eventually he came out bleeding from the head, and with one leg tied to his wrist."

"We managed to shuffle up to the front entrance and gave the alarm."

"Hands Up!" Norman Oxborough said he was driving his taxicab near the dance hall when he saw a police officer, whom he followed to the back of the hall. He saw the two Goads and a third man approaching them. Harry Goad was carrying a brown attaché case.

"We stopped the three men," Oxborough added, "and the constable asked them what was in the bag, and where they were going. Harry Goad said he was just going home from work. Someone suddenly yelled 'Hands up!' and both prisoners dived and dashed away."

"We chased them and left the third man standing. I overtook both prisoners, and held Philip Goad until the police-sergeant arrived."

Mr. Clayton, asking for a remand, said Mr. Fox was too ill to appear yet, but he would say that as soon as Heard left him a man rushed into the office and said, "Hands up!"

Mr. Fox at the time was counting the cash. Most of it was in notes, and it amounted to about £700. He did not see any firearms, but his assailant pointed something at him.

Gagged and Bound. This man was masked and there must have been someone with him, because Mr. Fox was immediately knocked unconscious by a rain of blows on his head.

He was gagged, bound hand and foot, and his coat was pulled over his eyes.

His assailants proceeded to take the contents of the safe. Although Mr. Fox was only attacked by two men, he heard someone else and probably three men ransacked the room.

The magistrate (Mr. Cairns) granted a remand for a week, refusing bail.

DIOCESAN BOYS' SCHOOL

NEW HEADMASTER ARRIVES

The new Headmaster of the Diocesan Boys' School, Mr. C. B. R. Sargent, M.A., arrived in the Colony on Thursday last. The following day there was a gathering in the School Hall when Mr. Sargent was formally introduced to the staff and boys by the Dean of Hong Kong, acting in place of the Bishop. The Dean was supported by some members of the School Committee who were present.

Mr. Sargent has now assumed charge of the School, and his appointment augurs well for its future. It will be remembered that Mr. Sargent was at St. Catherine's College, Cambridge, and that immediately before his appointment as Headmaster of the Diocesan Boys' School he was on the staff of Wellington College.

CHAPAI CHINESE "TRAITORS."

ARREST AND PUNISHMENT DEMANDED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

General Wu Te Chen, Mayor of Greater Shanghai, who recently issued warrants for the arrest of several Chinese alleged to be the puppets of Japanese administration in Chapei, is now asked to draft a set of regulations for the punishment of these "traitorous" Chinese by local public organisations which also asked the Chinese Ratepayers Association to secure the apprehension of these "traitors" taking refuge in the Settlement.

During the period of Japanese occupation of Chapei, it was alleged by the Chinese public organisations, including the Federation of National Salvation Associations, the Special District Citizens' Federation, etc., the "traitorous" Chinese, who established the Chapei puppet administration, and their followers committed numerous offences under foreign protection, and also acted as spies for the Japanese.

The local public bodies further alleged these Chinese could be convicted on a charge of high treason and should pay death penalty. In the interest of peace and order and to prevent other Chinese from following their example in future, the City Government of Greater Shanghai should without delay draft and publish a series of regulations governing their punishment, the local public bodies stated in a petition forwarded to the Mayor.

Hiding in Settlement.

In their letter to the Chinese Ratepayers Association, these public bodies alleged many of the "traitorous" Chinese had moved from Chapei into the Hongkong District following the Japanese evacuation from the Chapei area. The writers requested that the S.M.C. be approached with a request to apprehend these Chinese in the Settlement.

"Following the evacuation of Japanese forces from Chapei and the taking over of the evacuated districts by the Chinese authorities, all Chinese traitors who formerly behaved like tigers in Chapei under Japanese protection are now hiding themselves in small tea shops and lodging houses on Ward Road, Point Road, East Yuhang Road, and vicinity."

"It will be remembered that after the outbreak of hostilities around Shanghai, these Chinese traitors seized the opportunity to commit incendiarism and murder and to cause disturbances in the city. They have now gone into hiding in the Settlement. It is feared that they may create disturbances in the foreign-controlled territory, so you are requested to send a letter to the Council, demanding the apprehension of these 'traitorous' Chinese."

BABY FOUND IN A FLOWER BED.

SURPRISE FOR MILKMAN ON MORNING ROUND

A child was found in a flower bed to-day by a man delivering milk in Ardleigh Green-road, Hornchurch (Essex). The baby which was at the entrance of the drive leading to the house of Mr. Gay, was taken to Oldchurch Institution. It was about three months old and well nourished.

It was wrapped in a woollen shawl and wore a hand-knitted vest, knitted petticoat, muslin frock, crocheted coat with mauve ribbon, a pair of woven wool hilkings, and knitted socks. There were flowers on the front of the hat and corners of the coat. The baby has dark hair and blue eyes.

The police are anxious to discover the baby's identity.

APPENDICITIS.

INQUIRY PROPOSED.

An inquiry into the causation of appendicitis and its spread in recent years is suggested by Mr. W. H. Battle, consulting surgeon to St. Thomas' Hospital, in a letter to the "Lancet."

Mr. Battle suggests that the "Lancet" should carry out the investigation.

SHIPPING ORDINANCES.

IMPORTANT AMENDMENTS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

The draft of an Ordinance to amend the Merchant Shipping Ordinance, 1899 is published in the current issue of the Government Gazette.

The object of this Ordinance is to make such amendments in the Merchant Shipping Ordinance of the Colony as are considered desirable before the Ordinances are consolidated.

There is reason to believe that in some cases the certificated master, who must be provided under section 4 (2) of the principal Ordinance in the case of every British ship and every foreign ship holding a passenger certificate under section 10, is carried because the Ordinance requires it, but is either discouraged by the owners, charterers, agents or compadres to leave the control of the ship to unqualified persons or is liable to dismissal if he interferes with such control.

Sections 5 and 6 of this Ordinance therefore amend section 10 of the principal Ordinance by making the issue of passenger certificates discretionary and also by making such certificates revocable in any case where the Governor has reason to believe that the certificated master of the ship is not permitted to exercise proper control of the ship.

Section 15 adds oil to the list of substances which may not be cast upon the waters.

Section 23 redrafts section 37 (15) of the principal Ordinance so as to bring all launches and motor boats under the collision regulations, and so as to enable the Harbour Master to deal with all local certificates of competency issued to masters and engineers of launches and motor boats.

There are many other proposed changes, including increased penalties for various offences.

S.S. MAURETANIA.

REVELATION BY FORMER COMMANDER.

COLLISION AVERTED DURING LAST HOUR ON BRIDGE.

Captain S. G. S. McNeil, the man who retired from the command of the Mauretania, reveals in a fascinating volume of memoirs, in Great Waters (Faber and Faber, 12s.), that during his last hour on the bridge the famous Cunarder narrowly escaped being rammed by a foreign ship in Southampton Water.

The Mauretania was halfway up the Channel where a French freighter started to head in towards her. We were only 300 yards apart. He then blew three short blasts, meaning that he was going full speed astern, and our pilot at once ordered "full astern."

Captain McNeil realised that this would not avert a collision. He countermanded the order, and by swinging the Mauretania's stern away cleared the freighter by a margin of 15 feet.

I have been in a few dangerous positions, when we might well have sunk in deep water on the high seas. But in my last hour command at sea, the possibility of having the Mauretania's beautiful side torn open by an ugly freighter's stern was a situation which even the choicest adjectives of my sailing days could not cope with.

It appears that the freighter struck the mud and canted over, which lends point to Captain McNeil's plea for the improvement of the approaches to Southampton.

His book is full of pungent comment, especially on the not always cordial relations between the Royal Navy and the Merchant Service during the war, and of stories of adventure in every kind of ship in every kind of weather. He explains the almost endless duties of the captain of a great Atlantic liner, ranging in his case from investigations of alleged thefts to the knocking out of a burly, insane stoker.

He gives a vivid account of the two voyages three years ago in which the veteran Mauretania beat her own record, although for most of the time weather conditions were far from favourable, and adds: "If oil-fuel consumption were a matter of no moment, she would find the weather sometimes and average 23 knots."

Sail Training. Capt. McNeil was trained in sail, and argues that modern methods of training Mercantile Marine officers are totally inadequate.

Foreign countries train their men in sail and do not do it for the fun of the thing. Our supply of 100 per cent seamen is failing; our whole existence depends on our Merchant Service. But the country with the greatest maritime history is appalling ignorant of the past and present and careless of the future of the oldest branch of its sea service.

This is a book which should be read not only for its revelation of a great personality but for its vigorous appeal to the nation to increase its knowledge of a service which in the past has been unjustly neglected, and is now facing strong competition from foreign rivals.

The R.M.S. Empress of Asia arrived at Vancouver on June 10, leaves that port on June 18, is due at Hong Kong on July 6, and leaves here the same day for Manila.

The m.v. Japanese Prince, from New York, sailed from Shanghai on the 11th instant and is expected here this afternoon.

read not only for its revelation of a great personality but for its vigorous appeal to the nation to increase its knowledge of a service which in the past has been unjustly neglected, and is now facing strong competition from foreign rivals.

R.M.S.P. CO.'S AFFAIRS

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 11.

A scheme for the reorganization of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's affairs has again been before the Courts during the last few days, and to-day, Mr. Justice Eve, in the Chancery Division, sanctioned an arrangement providing for the regrouping of 13 Companies comprising the Royal Mail group, and securing their moratorium until the end of 1934.

During that time neither the Treasury nor the Government of North Ireland will take any steps against the subsidiary Companies to enforce payment of secured loans, or of issued securities which they guaranteed; but they may enforce payment out of the earnings of the Royal Mail Company itself.
